SECTION

PART I. Identify the premise(s) and conclusion in the following arguments. (3 pts each)

1. According to Socrates, [1] people will do what they believe is in their best interests. Thus, [2] since the good is in people's best interest, [3] people do what is good. Premises 2, 3 Conclusion 1
2. [1] The propensity for taking an ethical stance arises from human nature itself. [2] It is innate, it follows that [3] we could be ethical without knowing it. Premises 1, 2 Conclusion 3
3. [1] Parents cannot be with their teenage children every minute of the day and, [2] even if they could, they would not always be able to stop them from doing things that might cause harm to other people or other people's property. [3] That's why they should not be blamed or punished for crimes that their teenage children commit. Premises 1, 2 Conclusion 3

PART II. Determine the following passages as an argument or non-argument. (3 Pts each)

1. The price of teff is increasing because of inadequate supply of the product. argument
2. Speeding is only a minor infraction, but vehicular homicide is a serious felony. argument
3. Viruses are cellular entities too small to be seen with a light microscope. They are composed of a nucleic acid and a few proteins. Viruses replicate themselves and display other properties of living organisms only when they have invaded living cells. Indeed, some viruses can be crystallized and stored in a container on a shelf for years, but they retain the capacity to invade cells and cause disease. non-argument

PART III. Determine the following arguments as inductive or deductive. Give reason for your answer. (4 pts each)

1. Lawyers lose their cases whenever they go to trial without proper preparation. Good lawyers never go to trial without proper preparation, which is why they never lose their cases. Inductive
2. Tehtna is Selam's mother. Therefore, Tehtna is older than Selam. Deductive
3. Easter is always on Sundays. Therefore, next year's Easter will be on Sunday. Inductive
4. Every law is an evil, for every law is a violation of liberty and whatever that violates liberty is evil. Deductive

PART IV. DETERMINE THE TYPE OF THE ARGUMENT BELOW AS DEDUCTIVE OR INDUCTIVE. THEN EVALUATE THE INFERENTIAL CLAIM. (2 pts each)

1. If some surgeons are allergists, then some psychiatrists are radiologists. But no psychiatrists are radiologists. Therefore, no surgeons are allergists.
Type Deductive why? because Evaluation Invalid
2. Scientists have found through experimentation that baby female gorillas who were "nurtured" by inanimate mother substitutes that performed some parenting functions were unable to function as mothers when they had offspring. This teaches us that infants should not be placed in the care of babysitters and daycare centers but should only be raised by their natural mothers.
