Part I: Write True If the Statement Is Correct and False If The Statement Is Incorrect. (0.5pt = 5pts.)

True

1. Arguments presented based on the statistical sources are inductive arguments.

2. Emotively charged statements have only an emotive meaning.

3. To avoid subjectivity of intensional definition, someone needs to rely on conventional connotation.

True

4. Being valid deductive argument is a sufficient condition for being a sound argument.

5. Extensional definition techniques cannot be used to produce precisising definition.

6. The truth value of statements always determines the validity and strength of an argument.

Part II: Choose the Best Answer and put the Letter of Your Choice on The Space Provided (=10pts.)

1. Which one of the following techniques of definition is limited by time and space?

A. Definition by sub class

B. Enumerative definition

C. Demonstrative definition

D. Definition by genus and difference

E. Synonymous

2. Which one of the following is false about inductive arguments?

A. Always proceed from particular to general.

B. Probable for the conclusion to be true while all premises are assumed true

C. Always involve probabilistic reasoning

D. Its conclusion mostly goes beyond the evidence stated in the premise.

E. None of the above

3. 'Water changes into vapor if and only if it boils at 100°C and changes liquid into gasses' is an example of:

A. Demonstrative definition technique

B. Etymological definition technique

C. Operational definition technique

D. Enumerative definition technique

E. Definition by Genus and difference

4. The argument-'This package material has a cautionary mark that indicates there is fragile material in it. Hence, the package has to be hold carefully and the fragile material must be there'- is an example of

A. Argument based on analogy

B. Argument based on prediction

C. Argument based on causal inference

D. Argument based on sign

E. Argument based on authority

5. Identify the incorrect statement about intensional and extensional meaning of terms?

A. Intensional meaning of terms varies from person to person

B. Intensional meaning determines extensional meaning of terms

C. Extensional meaning of terms remains the same to all people

D. The order and meaning of increasing intension and decreasing extension is the same

E. A term with empty extensional meaning has its own intentional meaning

6. Which one of the following conditions makes an argument sound?

A. Invalid deductive with all true premises

B. Invalid deductive with all false premises

C. Valid deductive with all false premises

D. Valid deductive with true premises

E. A & D

7. Identify the incorrect statements about Stipulative definition.

A. Assign meaning for the first time arbitrarily

B. Focus on reducing ambiguous expressions

C. Definitions cannot be evaluated as true or false

D. Can be used to set up secret codes

E. Aims to simplify complex expressions

8. 'Every lake found in Ethiopia is a rift valley lake. Abaya is found in Ethiopia. Therefore, Abaya is a rift valley lake.' This argument is?
- A. Deductive, Valid, Unsound argument
 B. Inductive, Strong, Cogent argument
 C. Deductive, Invalid, Unsound argument
 D. Deductive, Valid, Sound argument
 E. Inductive, Strong, Uncogent argument
9. Of the definition types the one which aims at specifying or demarcating appropriate borderlines concerning the applicability of the terms to a specific situation is?
- A. Precising definition
 B. Persuasive definition
 C. Lexical definition
 D. Stipulative definition
 E. Theoretical definition
10. Which one of the following is incorrect about the relationship between validity and actual truth value of premises and conclusion?
- A. An argument with an actual true premise and true conclusion can be valid or invalid.
 B. An argument with an actual true premise and false conclusion is always invalid.
 C. An argument with an actual false premise and true conclusion is always valid.
 D. Validity is not a matter of truth value of statements rather matter of form.
 E. An argument with an actual false premise and false conclusion can be valid or invalid.

Part III: Short Answer Item.Instruction I: Identify the Definitional Techniques used in the following definitions. (0.5 each=2pts)

- 'Reptile' means something like snake, lizard, turtle, crocodile and so on. _____

Instruction II: Determine the Validity and Strength of the Following Arguments. (=3pts.)

- All Animals are Carnivores. A dog is an Animal. So, Dog is a Carnivore. (=1.5pts.)
 - Type of argument? _____
 - Strength/validity? _____
 - Cogency/soundness? _____
- Coca-Cola is the most popular soft drink in the world. Therefore, probably someone is drinking Coca-Cola somewhere at this moment. (=1.5pts.)
 - Type of argument? _____
 - Strength/validity? _____
 - Cogency/soundness? _____

Instruction III: Rearrange the Following Terms in Order of Increasing & Decreasing Intension & Extension. (0.5 each=2pts.)7. Terms: Carnivore, Animals, Domestic, Dog, Mammals

- Increasing extension: _____
- Increasing intension: _____
- Decreasing extension: _____
- Decreasing intension: _____
